

DEATH CRASH: Mazour

Oil son is jailed

THE son of a Russian oil billionaire who killed a friend in a high-speed car crash was jailed for six-and-a-half years yesterday.

Tests suggested Ivan Mazour, 22, had smoked cannabis and may have been up to three times above the drink-drive limit when his car hit a lamp-post at nearly 90mph.

His 170mph Mitsubishi Evolution VIII, described as the world's fastest saloon, hurtled across the central reservation and rammed a BMW. Its driver and five passengers were seriously hurt.

Mazour, whose father Ivan Mazour Snr, joined Russia's super-rich with the privatisation of the country's energy industry, was also badly injured.

But front seat passenger, student Charlie Green, 21, died soon after impact.

Mazour admitted causing death by dangerous driving at London's Southwark Crown Court.

POLICE were yesterday granted a further 32 hours to quiz two men arrested over the murder of Special Constable Nisha Patel-Nasri.

The warrants for further detention were granted by two separate London magistrates courts, Scotland Yard said.

A 37-year-old man from north London and a 41-year-old man from east London, in custody at separate police stations in the capital yesterday, were arrested early on Wednesday.

Nisha, 29, died after she was stabbed in the leg by an attacker outside her home in Wembley, north-west London, on May 11.

DI INQUEST VICTORY FOR DODI'S DAD

A CRUCIAL preliminary hearing in the Princess Diana inquest will be held in public.

Public interest persuaded the ex senior judge in charge to back down over plans to hold it behind closed doors.

Lady Butler-Sloss's decision last night came after furious Mohammed Al Fayed claimed the meeting would be a blatant "establishment cover-up".

■ by IAIN BURCHELL

The Harrods owner, the father of Diana's lover Dodi, had threatened legal action.

A spokesman for the Judicial Communications Office said: "She was persuaded that the strong public interest in the cases justified the meeting being held in open court." The preliminary meetings will be held on January 8 and 9.

Jury

It will be decided whether Diana and Dodi's inquests will be held jointly or separately and if a jury will be required.

Diana, 36, and 42-year-old Dodi died on August 31, 1997, in the Pont de l'Alma tunnel, Paris.

Former Scotland Yard Commissioner Lord Stevens' report into the deaths is due next week.

Mr Al Fayed, 77, said last night: "I have tirelessly pursued the truth amidst formidable and continuing obstacles from the establishment."

"I wait to see if the forthcoming report of Lord Stevens will help me to move closer to that."

PRINCESS: Inquest in public

Losing her Ed

PREGNANT Mel B says there is "no question" that Eddie Murphy is the father of her unborn baby.

The ex-Spice Girl, 31, above, said she was "astounded" after Murphy, 45, right, claimed their relationship was over on a TV show, adding he was not sure if he was the father.

She said: "I am upset and distressed at some of his comments."

LEONA: FAN NICKED MY WEBSITE!

by IAIN BURCHELL

X FACTOR hopeful Leona Lewis has been zapped by a cyber squatter.

A cheeky fan has registered the website www.leonalewis.net

And that means the sexy singer will have to stump up a wad of cash if she wants to use the domain name to boost her profile.

The address has been snapped up by Holly Jay, of Norfolk, who put it on eBay.

But last night the auction had been removed from the website early. Bidding reached £31 with three days left.

Holly appears to be confident 21-year-old Leona will get through tomorrow night's X Factor semi-final – and the value of the address will soar.

Jonathan Robinson, of web experts NetNames, says Leona's guru, Simon Cowell, 47, may regret missing out.

He said: "You would have thought someone as business savvy as Simon would have had the foresight to protect Leona's online profile."

"This mistake could come back to haunt her. If she wants to buy the address it won't come cheap."

"But I doubt she would want to risk someone else using her name and confusing fans."

INJURED: Wallwork

Ronnie attack arrest

■ by SRI CARMICHAEL
POLICE have arrested a 20-year-old man on suspicion of attempting to murder footballer Ronnie Wallwork.

The 29-year-old West Brom defender, who is on loan at Barnsley, was stabbed in the back, hand and stomach in a Manchester city centre bar last week.

Robert Rimmer handed himself in to officers at a police station in Manchester following an appeal for him to come forward.

Bar

He is being questioned in police custody.

Wallwork had been enjoying a night out with his girlfriend at the Sugar Lounge bar on Whitworth Street, Manchester, on November 30 when he was attacked.

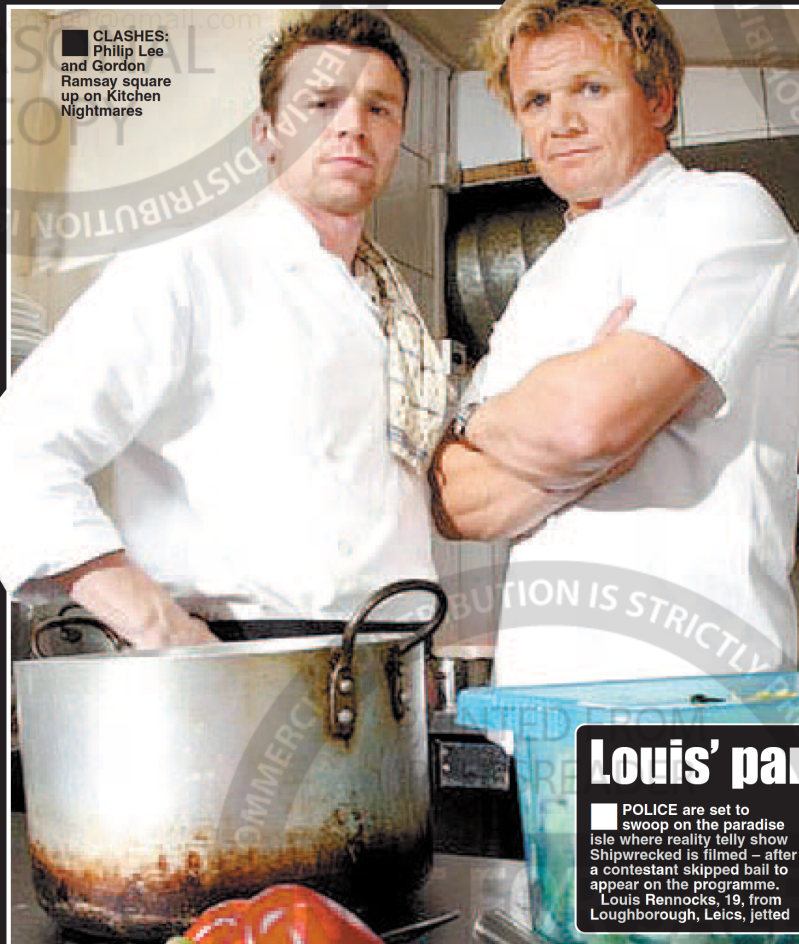

Bar staff gave the soccer star first aid before he was taken to the Manchester Royal Infirmary for treatment.

Wallwork is said to be recovering and is in a "stable condition".

CLASHES:
Philip Lee
and Gordon
Ramsay square up on Kitchen
Nightmares

A CHEF who went toe-to-toe with Gordon Ramsay is now behind bars - for cooking the books.

Cocky Philip Lee, 30, clashed with Ramsay after he branded him "rubbish" during last Tuesday's episode of Channel 4's Kitchen Nightmares.

He was fired after filming and was shown starting a new job at a rival restaurant just weeks later.

But now Lee has been jailed for three months for cheque fraud. A source said: "It's a shame what has happened because Phil is not a bad lad and worked hard at his cooking. All his colleagues at his current restaurant knew nothing about this at all."

"Phil was jailed last Friday and people only started to investigate when he failed to turn up for work on Monday."

"He got a bit cocky on TV and thought he could verbally spar with Gordon Ramsay - except it didn't work."

Daft

"Instead he looked daft and was sacked."

The court heard last Friday and people only started to investigate when he failed to turn up for work on Monday.

He admitted three charges of obtaining cash by deception from Easy Pawn Ltd in Liverpool, between July 2006 and August 2006.

He also pleaded guilty to three charges of stealing cheques belonging to the Viper Lounge in Grappenhall, Warrington, Cheshire. Before

■ by CHRIS RICHES

Warrington magistrates last month he was sentenced to a further day's detention for failing to surrender to custody earlier.

He admitted one further cheque fraud to the value of £250.

Lee went head-to-head with Ramsay, 40, in Morgan's restaurant at Woolton, Liverpool.

He got into several foul-mouthed exchanges after being criticised for burning food and serving mash with apricots.

Viewers of the Channel 4 show saw him start his new job as a sous chef at Albert Dock's Blue Bar.

He had not told colleagues in his new job about the court case.

After Lee left, Morgan's owner Sandra Kelly, 56, and her two daughters Helen and Laura eventually managed to turn their business around.

Louis' paradise lost

■ POLICE are set to swoop on the paradise isle where reality telly show Shipwrecked is filmed - after a contestant skipped bail to appear on the programme. Louis Rennocks, 19, from Loughborough, Leics, jetted to the Cook Islands in the south Pacific for the chance to win a share of the C4 show's £70,000 prize.

Now he faces being sent home to answer shoplifting charges at Leicester Crown Court.

IT COULD BE YOURS FOR PENNIES BY 7PM MONDAY

FANCY a super Cooper? You could drive off in this sparkling new Mini for just a few pennies by 7pm on Monday in our auction with a difference.

It is not the highest bidder who wins – it's the person who makes the LOWEST UNIQUE bid. Here's how to enter...

1 PICK a sum you think might be the lowest unique bid. You can bid from 1p to £1,000. Your bid must be sent in pence. For example, £5.25 would be 525 or £10.60 would be 1060.

2 BID by text or call. TO TEXT: Send a message starting with the word BID. Then leave a space and enter your bid in pence. For example, if you bid £1.20 your message would be: BID 120. Send to 88100.

TO CALL: Dial 0906 751 3074 and follow instructions. All you pay for is the call, not the sum bid.

3 YOU will receive a text back telling you whether your bid has been successful and we will send you a FREE text message if your bid status changes.

4 THE winner will be the sender of the lowest unique bid registered when the auction ends at 7pm on December 11, 2006. Good luck!

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

TEXTS cost £1.50 each plus your normal standard message rate. Calls cost 75p/min from a BT landline. Calls last approximately 2 mins and 30 secs. Minimum bid is 1p, maximum bid is £1,000. You must be 18 or over to enter. Product may vary from that pictured.

The lowest unique bid at 7pm on December 11, 2006, must buy the Mini Cooper at that bid price. The lowest unique bid will be a binding legal contract for the sale of the Mini Cooper by Northern & Shell to the bidder.

The successful bidder will only be deemed successful if Northern & Shell are able to verify that the cost of all of the bidder's text entries has been paid. Northern & Shell's record of each bid is the official record of bids. Northern & Shell and suppliers will not be held responsible for any breakdowns in communication systems or networks that could result in a bid not being registered or a text message not being received.

The successful bidder will be contacted after the closing date and must agree to publicity. For all SMS services, you may receive other related promotional offers/services. To stop receiving send STOP to 88100.

The winner will be liable for insurance and road tax and must provide a valid insurance certificate for registration purposes before delivery. Competition open to all UK residents aged 18 and over. Editor's decision is final.

No cash alternative. Employees of Express Newspapers plc, its agents, wholesaler and retailer and/or their relations may not participate. Usual Daily Star terms and conditions apply. Winner will receive prize within three months from the closing date of auction.

PASSPORT RING IS SMASHED

A HUGE fake passport and benefits fraud ring has been smashed, police said yesterday.

Officers say the con could have cost British taxpayers more than £150million a year.

And the Nigerian gang behind it is thought to have raked in millions before police swooped.

The fraudsters smuggled at least 10,000 fake passports, UK social security ID cards, falsified cheques and bogus UK residency permits into the UK by posting them to addresses here from Nigeria via Frankfurt Airport.

by PAUL MALLEY

Police in Germany became suspicious at the amount of similar looking packages arriving at the airport.

They alerted detectives in Britain, who have arrested 34 people on suspicion of fraud. Most are thought to be Nigerian nationals living in the UK.

A spokesman for SOCA,

Germany's Serious Organised Crime Agency, said: "Since July 2005 we noticed many packages looked exactly the same."

"We began X-raying them and found the fake documents inside."

He added that the "gigantic" benefits fraud could have cost Britain more than £150m a year.

German Finance Secretary Barbara Hendricks said Britain was a favourite target of such fraudsters because there was no national ID card.

Razors look sharp

RAZORLIGHT'S plans for utter UK domination are coming together with the news that the lads will headline Earl's Court next year.

They'll play a massive arena tour next spring, kicking off in Exeter on March 30. The jaunt takes them to Bournemouth, Manchester and more before a final night at the West London enormodome on April 8.

JOE MOTT'S DOUBLE AWARD WINNING HOT

THE Blog returneth. On the long-awaited (I hope) update, you will find details of my hols plus lengthy opining on what it's like going out with who I'm going out with. www.dailystar.co.uk/blog is good, like beer with curry.

Doherty a shop 'n' roller

NOTHING is ever easy with Pete Doherty.

And he had organisers tearing their hair out at Selfridges yesterday when he failed to turn up for a Babyshambles performance on time. I'm told: "He hasn't got a mobile phone and he went missing when he was supposed to be playing a few songs to launch the Gio Go! designer clothing line in London. "There were 400 people waiting to see him and there was a bad feeling in the air when it looked like he wasn't coming."

The messy individual, 27, finally showed his face and did four songs.

Seriously, it's the Kaisers

Ricky's joy at new LP

THE Kaiser Chiefs have labelled their hit debut album as little more than a novelty record.

And in an exclusive chat with what is clearly the best music column in the UK, frontman Ricky Wilson insists the band's follow-up is a brand new world.

The Leeds lads discuss the jokey Britpop theme of Employment to record their new long-player.

Ricky, 28, left, told me: "Before this album we were just mucking about, recording songs but never really sure how it might turn out."

"We were really keen to get rid of the novelty element but keep the rest intact."

"This time we really wanted to make a great album. There's so much s--- out there, so it was important this record was strong from start to finish."

I'm one of just a few journalists to hear the as-yet-untitled long-player, due out on February 26, and I agree with Ricky.

It's a great and daringly different collection.

Secret

He added: "I think you're supposed to evolve on your second album, which we have done, but it's still very much a Kaiser Chiefs record."

The band have just returned from a secret tour of the continent.

And they were thrilled with the reaction the new tracks generated.

Ricky said: "We've played a few gigs in Europe and introduced about seven new songs, which people are already singing along to, so we haven't lost it."

"There are no songs for songs' sake on the album."

"We must have played over 400 gigs and I think we've finally discovered that we do have a sound, our own sound."

Tasha is tops

NATASHA Bedingfield is celebrating after being nominated for a top Grammy Award.

She of the pleasantly-sizeable bottom and perky pop tunes has got a nod for Best Female Pop Vocal, for Unwritten.

After a bit of style-tweaking and hard graft, Tasha has blatantly conquered the States - a feat most Brit musicians totally fail to achieve...

Robbie Williams.

Tasha said: "I'm over the moon about the nomination, but I'm not even going to consider the possibility of winning it."

Well, I reckon Daniel's little sister is in with a very good chance.

Blur's reunion more in focus

THE much-mooted Blur reunion is growing ever-closer.

Bassist Alex James convened a summit meeting with errant axe-man Graham Coxon recently where getting the quartet back together was top of the agenda.

SUMMIT: Damon

The be-spectacled guitarist walked out on the rest of the band - Damon Albarn, Alex and drummer Dave Rowntree - in 2002 and launched a solo career soon afterwards.

A clearly excited Alex revealed: "I saw Graham last week."

"There may be some news there but I don't want to rush anything."

NEW SOUND: The Kaisers' Ricky

THOSE pleasant chaps from Take That have raised £30,000 for charity.

With a little help from their fans - Thatters - Mark Owen and the boys auctioned off the costumes they wore on their Ultimate Tour to raise wedge for the Five Stars Scanner Appeal.

Mark said: "It's great that fans have dug so deep. It's nice to give something back." Especially if it's money.

MADNESS frontman Suggs has proved so popular with Virgin Radio listeners he's been given his own daytime show.

The nutty boy, who currently presents the weekend Party Classics show, will take over the afternoon slot in the new year.

Afternoon Tea With Suggs will be broadcast between 2pm and 4pm every weekday.

PLAYED: It's clear the lads were in high spirits as they partied

POLICE had to bring in a full team when a rugby Christmas meal turned into a food fight.

Stars including former England captain Lawrence Dallaglio, 34, and telly pundit Jeremy Guscott, 41, were at a bash with pals at posh London restaurant Nobu.

But when the lads started rucking around on Wednesday night things turned sour and they paid the penalty.

A source said: "The party arrived at 8pm. The players were told to quieten down, but continued to have a good time. One of the party threw a mate's sweaty sock and it landed on another table. Then when the restaurant asked them to leave they refused, so police were called."

A spokesman for Dallaglio said: "It was a group of rugby lads who had been out to lunch and went on to Nobu for drinks.

"There were no problems. The police shook hands with some of the players. They left of their own accord."

EastEnders

Pauline's kiss-off

LOVE is in the air for Martin Fowler and ex-wife Sonia as they enjoy a steamy snog after finally telling Rebecca they're her mum and dad. Evil grandma Pauline (Wendy Richard, 63) threatens to lift the lid on their secret (above), so the pair (James Alexandrou, 21, and Natalie Cassidy, 23) decide to break free and tell the child themselves.

Sad Di finally cracks

EMMERDALE

LANDLADY Diane Sugden finally goes loopy after her year from hell.

In the past 12 months she has survived cancer and the show-home blast. And she is diagnosed as a hypomanic - someone who believes she is invincible.

Elizabeth Estensen, 57, who plays Diane, revealed: "You feel invincible as you have survived such traumatic events. But you also become neurotic and have extreme mood swings."

THREE CHEERS FOR XMAS DAY

Rivals serve festive bonanza

SOAP fans are in for a festive treat after telly's Big Three backed out of a head-to-head contest.

The Christmas Day episodes of EastEnders, Coronation Street and Emmerdale will not clash or overlap.

So addicts will be able to tune into three hours of drama in total.

A telly insider said: "If you're a soap fan you'll be glued to your TV set on Christmas Day as the big hitters pull out all the stops to make it an explosive day.

"Usually there's at least one head-to-head clash.

"But, thankfully for all fans, they won't have to choose this year."

BBC1's EastEnders will kick off the evening festivities with its first half-hour outing at 6.30pm. That's followed straight afterwards by Emmerdale's one-hour special on ITV1 - a hot favourite because it will include the murder of millionaire businessman Tom King (Ken Farrington, 70).

Killing

As viewers recover from the on-screen killing they can check out what's happening in The Rovers on ITV1's Corrie - in another one-hour special starting at 8pm.

Then it's back to Walford at 9pm for the "death of the year".

Albert Square's veteran battleaxe Pauline Fowler (Wendy Richard, 63) is finally bumped off.

Not exactly seasonal cheer.

But our insider insisted: "Soap fans have 17 episodes altogether in Christmas week - and they'll love them all."

Charlie dead poor

LOVE-RAT Charlie Stubbs is facing a pauper's funeral.

Tracy Barlow (Kate Ford, 29) batters her cheating fella Charlie (Bill Ward, 39) to death and is arrested. It's left to Charlie's pal Jason CORONATION ST.

(Ryan Thomas, 22) to find an undertaker on the cheap.

An insider said: "It is the ultimate revenge plot."

10 NINTENDO Wii MUST BE WON BY MIDNIGHT

YOUR Daily Star has pulled out all the stops for the launch of the Nintendo Wii console and we've now got ten up for grabs to be won by midnight tonight.

Hopetful punters queued for hours as the must-have console went on sale this morning... but you could be one of our ten winners to walk away with a magnificent Nintendo Wii.

Included with this stunning console is a copy of the game Wii Sports. Use the controller as a tennis racket, golf club, baseball bat, bowling ball or boxing glove to find the ultimate champion.

The Wii features an innovative motion-sensitive controller, making it easy for everyone to play. Flick the Wii remote to go fishing or swing to strut your stuff on the tee.

But the Wii is not just a games console, through Wii Connect 24 use it as a message board to leave messages for your family, download classic games via Virtual Console or check out all the latest news and weather.

The Wii gives you chance to feature in games by designing a Mii character that looks like you. You can find out more at wii.nintendo.co.uk

HOW TO ENTER

Simply call 0906 751 3078 or text DSPLAY followed by your name and address details to 88100. Calls cost 75p per minute from a BT landline (average duration 2.5 mins).

Texts cost £1.50 plus your usual network rate. Winners will be selected at random from all entries received by midnight tonight, December 8, 2006.

For all SMS services, you may receive other related promotional offers/services. To stop receiving, please send STOP to 88100.

Alternatively you can enter for free by e-mailing competitions@dailystar.co.uk with the heading DSPLAY as your subject followed by your name and details.

Simply call 0906 7513078 or text DSPLAY followed by your name and address details to 88100

TERMS AND CONDITIONS: The prize includes one Nintendo Wii console and the game Wii Sports. The prize is non-transferable. The competition is open to all UK residents. The editor's decision is final. No cash alternative. No purchase necessary. Employees of Express Newspapers plc, its agents, wholesaler and retailer and/or their relations may not participate. Usual Daily Star terms and conditions apply. Strictly one e-mail per household, per entry. Please state on your email if you choose not to receive any further correspondence from Express Newspapers. The competition closes at midnight tonight, December 8, 2006. Winners will receive the prizes within 14 days from the closing date of competition.

Slob Brits hate exercise

by PAUL MALLEY

WE Brits are a nation of slob, with just one in five people hitting weekly exercise targets.

Just 6% exercise every day, while more than half don't do any at all, it was revealed yesterday.

Most Brits prefer to laze on the couch like TV's Jim Royle - played by Ricky Tomlinson, 67 - gorging on fast food.

And that is costing the nation a massive £8 billion a year in health bills.

Slobs

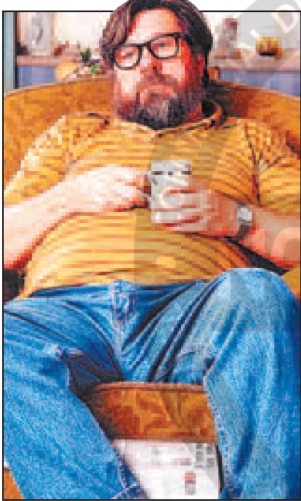

Only 21% of us do the recommended 30 minutes of moderate exercise at least three times a week, according to the Active People survey.

The south east is the most active region, with 22.6% exercising three times a week. The biggest slobbers are in the West Midlands, at just 19.3%.

Derek Mapp, chairman of Sport England, said: "Knowing the scale of the challenge is the first step to putting it right. It is a wake-up call."

"We aim to get two million more people doing sport by the time of the Olympics in 2012. It's a huge challenge and we're ready for it."

THE £800k CAR... YOU CAN'T DRIVE

by BILL MARTIN

IT'S the ultimate big boys' Christmas toy - a 200mph supercar worth £850,000. But you can't drive it on the road.

The Maserati MC12 Versione Corse can only be driven at exclusive private track sessions or exhibitions organised by the maker.

Just 12 of the 755bhp two-seater cars will be built to commemorate Maserati's victories in the FIA GT1 series over the last two years.

Power

The car is specifically designed not to be used for "road use or any racing activity" because it doesn't meet standard emissions and safety requirements.

The 17ft-long supercar will hit 125mph in just 6.4 seconds and tops out at 202mph.

Flat-out, it covers more than three miles every minute and could get from London to Leeds in under an hour.

Its six-litre V12 engine has more power than 12 Ford Fiestas. And to stop it taking off it has huge rear tyres - each almost two-and-a-half feet wide.

Available in standard "victory blue" or any colour the buyer chooses, Maserati says it can deliver in time for Christmas.

Unveiled at the Bologna Motor Show in Italy its option list includes special adjustable shock absorbers and an annual technical upgrade direct from the Italian firm's development department.

MANPRAM: Ideal buggy

Pram 'n proper

NEW dads are competing to outdo each other's set of wheels.

But this time the rivalry is over prams - Brit men choose buggies in the same way they choose their cars.

Nearly a third buy a pram because of features like handling rather than because it is the best one for junior.

And that helps as 14% admit they've raced their prams against another dad, a Yellow Pages survey has revealed.

Pram makers Mamas & Papas has designed the concept "Manpram" with stereos, sat-nav and other gizmos.

Xmas party antics put on net

BOOZY office party antics could land you with more than a hangover - you may also be shamed on the net.

The boom in camera and video phones has sparked a 300% rise in the number of drunken incidents put online.

Scott Button, MD of ViralVideoChart.com, said: "Your hang-over might be over in 24 hours but these clips last much longer."

Here are Viral's top four blunders:

1. A driver given a breathalyser test by police falls into a wall.
2. One partygoer's pole-dancing routine ends with an unexpected bang.
3. A drunken girl staggers into a toilet cubicle and into the pan.
4. Boozer gulps his own vomit - stirring his puke-filled pint with his finger.
